HOW TO USE THIS BOOK.

The University Library's books in the fields of the languages and the literatures, have still to be reclassified and recatalogued as the rest of the Library has been, and consequently they are not fully represented by subject entries in the subject catalogue. Author cards will be found for them in the author and title catalogue as for all other books; but if, for example, material on the BALLAD is wanted, few if any books will be found entered under that heading in the subject catalogue. There is however, a classed catalogue for books in these fields; it is in the trays at the end of the subject catalogue, following the letter Z. It will be noticed the cards are arranged by classification number and not alphabetically.

This book contains the classification scheme used in making the classed catalogue, and also an alphabetical index. In order to ascertain what books the Library has on the BALLAD, then, one looks in the alphabetical index and finds the classification number is 903. Under 903 in the classed catalogue will be found the cards for all books on the BALLAD.

If you are interested in finding material not merely on a single subject, but on a number of related subjects, a glance at the classification schedules themselves (in which related topics are grouped in a logical sequence) may serve as a helpful orientation.

If you encounter any difficulties in finding the material you are looking for, ask for assistance at the catalogue adviser's desk; or, if no catalogue adviser is on duty, at the reference desk in the main reading room.

FORM SUBDIVISIONS

The following form subdivisions are used throughout the classification scheme:

a- Bibliography.

Bibliographies of special subjects are arranged under such subjects, adding lower case a to the class mark.

b- Dictionaries.

Dictionaries of special subjects are arranged under such subjects, adding lower case b to the class mark.

c- Periodicals.

Periodicals, including society publications, on special subjects are arranged under such subjects, adding lower case c to the class mark.
